Discover Your Solutions LLC Launches Revolutionary Problem-Solving Website

Seattle, WA – Got huge problems? Answer: DiscoverYourSolutions.com. Keith Glein, founder and CEO, of Discover Your Solutions LLC has announced the launch of their new problem-solving website. This self-help website was created to help people find solutions to their most difficult problems, complex business issues, and important life decisions.

DiscoverYourSolutions.com offers customers three approaches: 1) an innovative computer program called MySolver™, 2) a collection of conventional problem-solving tools named Toolkit, and 3) a reference library of external resources called Links.

The revolutionary MySolver™ database program is an integrated system that combines classic problem-solving tools, modern cognitive science, and advanced cloud computing. It uses step-by-step structured analysis to solve problems. No experience or prior training is needed.

“Why spend your valuable time with self-help books, seminars, and skill training when all you really want to do is solve your problem?” asks Keith Glein. “We found that there was a real need to centralize problem-solving efforts around a single purpose. That’s why we created MySolver™. It directs all your resources towards your goal; finding the best solution.”

“It’s a quantum leap forward in problem-solving technology,” explains Keith Glein. “There’s nothing like it. It’s truly groundbreaking. Now, effective high-tech problem-solving is within everyone’s reach.”

You can use MySolver™ free for 1 month; then it’s only $19.95/month. The Toolkit and Links are always free.

Discover Your Solutions is an innovative company with a focus on pioneering tools and technologies that help people solve their problems. Discover Your Solutions is located in Seattle, WA. For more information, visit www.discoveryoursolutions.com.
